MANAGEMENT APPS

Some apps can help you organise your life, however finding the right one can become a challenge, which often can only add onto your ‘to do list’. Weather you need to stay on track with your appointments or never lose all your contact details on the phone, here are few apps which can make your life my organised.

24me is a smart personal assistant, with a calendar, to-do list and already built in notes. 24me connects to your real life, with a great accessibility to your utilities, service provider, banks and social networks, it tells you exactly what you have to do, and helps you manage the things from your device.

ConnectiD is a smart address book, which automatically updates, and shares your contacts. ConnectiD enables you to store your contacts without a fear of ever losing them again. Its great for the travellers, movers, smashers and professionals. With ConnectiD you will always be able to distribute your contact information across multiple networks, companies and devices, and the time zone feature will help you to manage the international communication.
